THE PRESIDENCY.

The Proposed Third Term for General Grant

[From the New York Herald.]

Without being particularly demonstrative in politics, this journal favored General Grant for President. He is now serving his second term. No President has ever served more than two terms. George Washington, the Father of this Country and its first President, was the first to set the example of declining even to be a candidate for a third term. This voluntary relinquishment of power has been regarded by many as the crowning glory of his most illustrated character.

John Adams, the second President, was not re-elected, and consequently served but a single term.

Thomas Jefferson, our third President and author of the Declaration of Independence, followed the example of Washington. So did James Madison, than whom no man acted a more important part in the formation and establishment of our Constitution. So did James Monroe.

John Quincy Adams, like his father, was elected only once.

This brought us to the time of Andrew Jackson. The opposition to him was very violent, but the support of him was still more powerful. He had been a military man, and possessed an iron will. It began to be reported, and soon became pretty generally believed, that he would seek a third term. But the old hero took an early occasion, in a message to Congress, to disclaim any such intention, and thus promptly to silence what he evidently regarded as a scandal.

Van Buren was elected but once.

Harrison and Taylor both died soon after entering upon their respective terms.

Tyler and Filmore were never elected President, but succeeded as Vice President, the former to Harrison, the latter to Taylor.

Franklin Pierce was not so much as nominated for re election. Neither was Buchanan.

Lincoln was assassinated after entering upon his second term; and Johnson, who succeeded him, barely squeezed through, after impeachment, a single term.

Thus we see that, in the long line of Presidents, there is no precedent to be found for even so much as an attempt to be elected a third term. To be sure, there is no provision in our written Constitution against a third term. But the tradition which limits the office of President to eight years has become so fixed and sanctified in the minds of the people, by the uniform example of our greatest men, that it possesses all the force of a Constitutional provision. Any attempt to depart from it now would be looked upon with well grounded suspicion as the first treacherous step toward the overthrow of Liberty and the foundation of Empire.

We do not doubt that such a movement would be met by a most crushing defeat. But this would not be all; the popular reprobation would blacken and brand the name of him who should seek to be satiated by a longer lease of power than that which Washington, and Jefferson, and Madison, and Monroe, and Jackson found sufficient to fill the measure of their ambition. No reputation is so high that it cannot be sacrificed. Arnold was unquestionably one of the greatest Generals of the Revolution; but, beneath the obloquy and infamy which cover him, even his military genius is lost to view.

At the end of eight years Gen. Grant will quietly walk out of the White House, or he will forever place himself outside of the esteem of the American people.

WIND, RAIN AND HAIL

Destructive Storm in Clarion County

A storm of wind, rain and hail passed over portions of Clarion and Jefferson counties, on Sunday evening last, doing much damage in Salem, Beaver, Piney and Monroe townships. In some, places says the Republican, buildings were unroofed, trees blown out of root, fences prostrated, and whole fields of grain totally destroyed by the hail. In the neighborhood of Reidsburg the hail was as large as walnuts, and in addition to other damages, broke nearly all the glass in the north and west sides of the houses. Grain crops, whole orchards of fruit trees, timber, etc., which took years of labor and toil to cultivate and rear, swept away and destroyed in less than an hour's time. Farmers who, in these townships, arose on Sunday morning and looked over their beautiful farms, the fields of which gave promise of excellent grain crops, and the orchards of an abundance of fruit, were compelled to retire at night with their hopes blasted, their crops, and even the soil of their rich and productive lands, washed into the hollows and sink holes. What gave promise of much in the morning was nothing more than a mass of debris at night. Among the losers were Nicholas Alt, entire crop and large amount of white oak timber; Jerre Best, crop and large lot of timber; Reuben Wentling, crop and large amount of fruit; Thomas Wentling, crop and fruit; Mrs. Ann Wentling, crop and fruit; W. J. Kline, large crop; John Neeley, entire crop; Reuben Fowls, two cows killed, and the horns broke off of another; Isaac Mong, large crop of grain, and fruit, and a portion of the roof blown from his dwelling house; Wm. Thomas, one cow killed; John Amsler, entire crop.

No lives were lost.

NELSONVILLE, O.

The Coal Miners' Strike.

Excitement Among the Negroes.

Over 100 Desert the Operators.

COLUMBUS, O., June 12.—A special to the Ohio State Journal from Nelsonville this afternoon, among other things, says: At daylight this morning the picket line of the Union miners was not visible, but soon after a party of about one hundred collected near the colored forces. Care was taken to keep the main body of negroes out of hearing distance, but the strikers sat down near by and held a conversation with negroes, urging them to join the Union. The guard was doubled, but still three colored men walked up to the guards, and presenting their revolvers, Walked Over to the Enemy.

Whenever the guard endeavored to press back the colored men the strikers urged them the more heartily to desert, demanding to know if they were still slaves and feared to go where they pleased. Secretary Putnam and Sheriff Warren were on the grounds, and advised putting the main body to work, leaving only a small party for guard duty. Arrangements were at once made to put sixty men into the mines to work, but at that time word came that a large body of strikers were marching toward the mines. Secretary Putnam and the Sheriff advanced to meet this party, and found them eight hundred strong, headed by a brass band. Putnam addressed the party, and succeeded in restraining them from proceeding further. After establishing a guard line of Union miners to prevent this party from advancing toward the mines, Putnam returned to the mines and communicated to the operators his thorough confidence that he could control the strikers, and that there was no danger of violence.

In the meantime a band and miners had arrived, and the crowd outside the line had increased to several hundred men and women. The band struck up a familiar tune, after which Thomas Piert, one of the Union miners, commenced a speech, warming when he saw the colored men approach the guard line, apparently undecided what to do. The guard endeavored to persuade the men to stand firm, while Piert begged them to come over to the strikers. Occasionally a squad of negroes would leave the operators, and then Piert would break out with such exclamations as "Now, men, make a general rush this way. Come ahead and bring your arms with you. We will be kind to you and send you home to your families." Other speakers joined Piert. Soon the was very great. They crowded down to the lines, and a general stampede seemed imminent. The operators, police and faithful ones amongst the negroes did their utmost to restore confidence, but notwithstanding their efforts, several squads pressed through the lines and were received by the strikers with loud cheering. Squads continued to drop out until thirty or forty had deserted.

Novel Device of the Operators.

The operators tried various devices to prevent the exodus, the most successful of which was in urging the negroes to join in singing "Rally Round the Flag" and religious pieces familiar in the Southern States. When Piert would commence to speak the operators would have their men drown his voice with songs. The scene was very exciting. At half past ten A. M. Piert withdrew his forces, but at eleven o'clock was seen

Returning to the Attack.

A large body of miners were not far off, seemingly awaiting orders, but Piert insisted that there was no danger of violence, and no miner would open fire.

The plan of the miners is to coax off as many of the negroes as possible, hoping to make such inroads in their ranks that the movement of the operators will prove practically a failure. The operators say they are far from discouraged, that they have more men coming, and if necessary they will bring a thousand men for the miners to take care of.

Negroes Returning.

At two o'clock some of the negroes who deserted had returned to their first love, and squads are seen on the road moving both to and from the camp.

Second Dispatch.

An evening special to the State Journal says there has been no special excitement during the afternoon. Part of the negroes have been mining and part at work on earthworks during the day. About sixty negroes have deserted, but have returned to camp, very drunk. An order has been sent to Memphis for one hundred negroes and to Columbus for one hundred. Still others are expected to-morrow.

The Lytle Guards and Sill Guards have been ordered off duty, but with instructions to be ready to come to Nelsonville if needed. A military company at Athens is to be increased to one hundred men, and ordered to be ready to move on short notice if needed.

Third Dispatch.

The latest advices from Nelsonville state that no outbreak need be feared to-night. The Sheriff of Athens county has a force of twenty-five deputies for guard duty, so as to relieve the negroes, who hereafter will be put to work. A delegation of Straitsville miners say they do not expect to come to Nelsonville in a body, and it is thought if they will keep their promises no collision will occur. If there has been any spirit of attack among the Nelsonville miners it has been suppressed by the presence of the State authorities.

It was found to-night that more than one hundred negroes have deserted to the strikers. A miner interviewed Secretary Putnam to-night to learn whether the State would transport colored deserters to their homes, and so relieve the Nelsonville Miners' Union of their "elephant." The operators say that within ten days every mine in the valley will be filled with negroes.

The strikers had a meeting to-night, eulogizing the deserters and declaring that no violence would be offered by the Unionists. Some of the deserters said they had been brought there by misrepresentations, and were dissatisfied with the prospects at the mines.

Fourth Dispatch.

Midnight.—All is quiet at the mines.

THE RUSSIAN SCANDAL.

Why the Grand Duke Nicholas Stole the Diamonds—An American Woman Involved in the Robbery—Her History in Philadelphia—The Daughter of a Clergyman as an Arch-Adventuress.

Correspondence New York "Herald."

PHILADELPHIA, June 10, 1874.

"The Grand Duke Nicholas has been arrested in St. Petersburg for stealing his mother's diamonds. He is said to have been driven to this act through the extravagance of his mistress."—Augsburg Allgemeine Zeitung.

The above, clipped from a German journal, simply corroborates a public scandal, which, for several weeks past, has in either one form or another appeared in all the representative newspapers of the United States. It is now known that the woman referred to is an American, the associations of whom were for a great many years confined to Philadelphia, and who, independent of the conspicuity given by her latest trick, has a history of peculiar interest to all. To those familiar with her career, the burden of our latest Russian advices communicates nothing in the least surprising, for they chronicle an act so consistent with this female's general character that even the unusual circumstances under which the theft was committed rob it of much which would otherwise form the basis of an extraordinary sensation.

The female who, it is alleged, left Russia with the precious stones has figured in so many cities, under the guise of such a multiplicity of names, that I am somewhat at a loss by which one of them I can best denote her. This being the case, I will begin with her family name; and in giving the outlines of her remarkable career will, as accurately as possible, state the circumstances by means of which she gained for herself the soubriquets which are so numerous and puzzling to her biographers.

Her Early History.

Her maiden name was Lizzie Ely, and she is the daughter of a prominent clergyman of the Presbyterian Church, and one of the company of Northerners who many years ago migrated to Missouri. He there founded Marion College, about which has been subsequently built a very prosperous and thriving town. When Miss Lizzie had attained the age of fifteen she was sent by her parents to a boarding school in West Virginia, where she remained quietly for about one year. She was there considered a remarkably intelligent creature, possessing a slight and delicately moulded figure, but at the same time superb health, while her disposition, tastes and general accomplishments gained for her favor and admiration. In the routine duties attended upon her educational culture, she displayed remarkable talent, acquiring as if by intuition what to all others came only after the severest application and toil. Her literary compositions were models of originality and skill, and in a word her proficiency gained her the highest grade upon the roll. It was here that she first displayed those marvellous faculties which have ever since distinguished her and which have recently proven themselves to be sufficiently subtle to lead astray even so honorable a gentleman as the Grand Duke Nicholas.

Elopement and Clandestine Marriage.

It was here, also, that she took the first step in her bold adventurous career, that in a moment divorced her from her dearest friends, severed her from her parents and held her up before her acquaintances in the most glaring, and at the same time most unpopular light. It was brought about in this wise:—While at the above named school she formed the acquaintance of a young man named Blackford, and resorted to the most strategic measures in order to enjoy his society. The affair came under the notice of the head of the school and extraordinary means were taken to keep them from meeting. It is stated that a quarrel ensued between Miss Lizzie and her preceptress, at the climax of which the young girl dashed from the room, vacated the premises, and met her lover a short distance beyond. She eloped with and was married to him. But the union did not prove to be a happy one. As usual in such cases, the honeymoon had barely passed when the two discovered that they had made a mistake. Quarrels were frequent, and subsequently when a separation was imminent Blackford was found one fine morning in his bed cold and dead. Leaving at once every association which this infelicitous marriage had created for her, she fled the South, came North, and under the name of Lizzie Blackford, took up

Her Residence in Philadelphia.

The great curse of this woman's life, if the statements made by all who knew her are worthy of credence, was her constant and habitual dissipation, and yet neither domestic trial nor indulgence upon her part seemed to affect her graceful figure or mar the attractions of her face. The summit of her ambition was to appear constantly in public places, and hence there was no social event of the year to which, in some way, she did not find access, nor an occasion favorable for promenading when she did not appear in the fashionable thoroughfares. The young widow "Lizzie Blackford" was known everywhere, and everywhere was she courted by certain beaux of society. Young, gay, accomplished, the mask she wore for a long, long time was taken for her true face, and the dangerous and wicked elements of her character were completely veiled and obscured by the pure, tender and innocent light of her countenance. It was only after her admirers had placed themselves in her power that they discerned her in her true role, and discovered also how base and merciless she was. And yet she deceived every one. The example of one man wrecked by her failed as a warning for others because society, as usual, took the woman's part.

The Adventuress Unmasked.

There was a certain talented and well connected young gentleman of this city who met and "loved her at first sight." At last he proposed to her and was accepted. Before the day appointed for the marriage arrived, however, an ugly rumor reached his ears and he refused, accordingly, to fulfil his obligations. The woman, determined not to be baffled, promptly instituted a suit against him for breach of promise, and thus set to work to involve him and all his friends in public scandal. As the woman anticipated, a compromise was proposed and she resigned the case upon condition of the payment of a large sum of money. A short time after this a bad rumor was set afloat concerning her and a prominent lawyer of this city, and the wife of this gentleman happening upon one occasion to find her husband in the woman's company, assaulted Lizzie Blackford and knocked her parasol across her face. Her dissipation was regularly kept up; but, as stated before, in no wise appeared to affect her health. I am informed upon the best authority that she was recognized upon several occasions passing in very questionable company, and my informant further states that whenever any one she knew came "in her way" she would extort all his money by extravagant trickery and then close his mouth by threatening to go to his relatives and tell the whole story. However this may be, it is well known that she kept up against several parties a regular system of blackmail, and that she extorted from one well known individual in this city the sum of $50,000. The unhappiness of many fashionable households can be directly traced to her influence, and she appeared to relish to the fullest extent that intrigue which would bring the heaviest sorrow and disgrace upon the greatest number of people.

Intrigues in New York and Paris.

All at once she left Philadelphia and proceeded to New York. So great was her fascinating influence and so marvellously well did she play her part that she became engaged to a young man, and, report says, married him. At all events, she dropped at this time the name of Lizzie Blackford, and called herself Mrs. Lizzie Feenix. Her career in the metropolitan city, however, was exceedingly brief. The next heard of her was that she had sailed for Paris in company with a member of one of the best known families in New York. It is said that while in Paris she kept up her constant dissipation and blackmailing system, though somehow she moved for a long time among most respectable American families. It is also stated that she avenged herself upon all who offended her and who refused to assist in the fulfillment of any of her designs. She figured also in other European capitals, and at last, it seems, has made away with $175,000 worth of royal diamonds.

In the above I have stated but a few particulars of the career of this dangerous woman.

Her Version of the Robbery.

(From Galignani's Messenger.)

A reporter of the Gaulois has just interviewed, at the Grand Hotel, Paris, Miss Feenix Blackford, the heroine in the affair of the robbery of diamonds by the Grand Duke Nicholas from his mother. That journal says:

She is slight and graceful in stature, like a person of good family; not pretty, but attractive. Unfortunately, her teeth have not the lustre of the pearls in her casket. In her conversation she calls the Grand Duchess Constantine "My mother-in-law. She declares that the only jewels abstracted by the Grand Duke was a decoration of diamonds and emeralds which adorned the breast of one of those portraits of St. Nicholas, which wealthy families in Russia cover with gems. It was taken by an aide-de-camp of His Highness to the Mont-de-Piete, which obliged him to break it up before lending 2,700 roubles on it. That occurred a few days before the departure of the Colonel for the Khiva expedition. The unfortunate officer was thrown into prison, and then only were the police convinced that the frequent robberies at the Marble Palace had been committed by the Grand Duke Nicholas.

"And were you arrested?" I asked.

"Yes, and passed a week in the palace of Count Tropoff, Minister of Police."

"With the diamonds?"

"Oh, no; the Grand Duke had warned me on the previous evening, and I had deposited my papers and jewels at the American Legation, where the police were able to convince themselves that none of them had belonged to my mother-in-law."

Miss Feenix declared that everything was restored to her when she was conducted to the frontier.

"I was treated quite as a queen," she said, "and had an escort."

"Indeed!"

"Yes, but only a small one—two gendarmes."

Thursday Scenes in Paris Repeated Yesterday.

Troops Called Out to Preserve Order.

Several Newspapers Suspended.

Destructive Conflagration in Paris.

FRANCE.

Gambetta's Assailant.

PARIS, June 12.—Count Saint Croix, upon his arrest last evening for striking Gambetta, told the police that the object of his assault was to provoke a duel. The Count was formerly an officer of the Zouaves of the Imperial Guard. Gambetta's face yet bears the mark of the blow. Several arrests were made at the railway station at the time of the tumult.

Thursday's Scenes Repeated.

PARIS, June 12.—The scenes of yesterday were repeated at the western depot to-day at the time of the departure of the parliamentary train for Versailles The populace again assembled in large numbers, and the deputies were respectively insulted and cheered. The police once more dispersed the rioters and took twelve of the more violent into custody. Four of the arrested parties were released after they had been identified, and the rest were committed for trial. So threatening was the demonstration that a body of troops was ordered to the station and aided the police in maintaining order.

M. Armand Adam, a brother of a Deputy of that name, and M. Spuller, a brother of the publisher of Le Republique Francais, a Radical Republican journal, were among the arrested.

Newspapers Suspended.

The Government has suspended the publication of Le Pays, Bonapartist, Le Rappel, Radical Republican, Le Dix and Neuvieme Siecle, Conservative Republican organs, for a fortnight, because of violent attacks upon its policy.

Editors Anxious for a Fight.

M. Paul De Cassagnac, editor of Le Pays, replies in that journal to-day to the demand of MM. Schoelcher and Testelin, who were delegated by the Republicans to demand armed reparation for his article attacking the members of the Left. He says therein that he assailed M. Gambetta and other deputies, but not M. Clemenceau, who is not, therefore, entitled to reparation, but, says De Cassagnac, "If M. Clemenceau wants a personal quarrel, he can have it." De Cassagnac says he particularly wishes to fight M. Gambetta, and adds that nine members of the editorial staff of Le Pays are willing to fight nine of the Republican Deputies, and will draw cuts for a choice of adversaries and of arms.

Assembly Proceedings.

PARIS, June 12.—In the Assembly to-day the second reading of the municipal election bill was concluded. M. De Mulivile, of the Left Centre, asked the Government to inform the House what course it intended to pursue towards the Bonapartists who ignored or defied the decisions of the Assembly.

M. Bethmont, of the Left, called attention to a statement made yesterday by M. Fourten, Minister of the Interior, in relation to the recent disturbances, that the statement implied that the police and Radical Deputies were equally to blame. The minister who made it ought not to be retained in office another moment. The Government was culpable in not removing him.

M. Picard, of the Left Centre, pointed to the long immunity from Government interference which the Bonapartist journal Le Pays had enjoyed, and declared that M. Fourton was unworthy of confidence.

M. Fourton replied. He declined to retract anything he had said. The Assembly should await the result of the inquiry which had been ordered into the recent deplorable occurrences. In conclusion, he assured the Chamber that the Ministry was determined to make President MacMahon's authority respected.

M. Bethmont then moved a vote of censure against the Minister, which was rejected by a vote of 377 nays to 326 ayes.

A Riot Prevented.

About the time of the return of the parliamentary train to Paris this evening a large number of people began to assemble around the station, but the crowds were soon dispersed by the police, and there was no disturbance on the arrival of the deputies.

The Bonapartist propaganda is very active, especially in the barracks.

It is considered certain that M. De St. Croix in striking M. Gambetta yesterday acted in accordance with a pre-arranged plan of the party leaders to provoke a duel.

Newspapers Seized.

Copies of the Le Pays were seized by the police this evening as soon as they were issued.

The Proposed Union.

The Left Centre is reported to be still hopeful of a union with a portion of the Right Centre and of the formation of a ministry under the Duke d' Audiffet Pasquier.

England Held Responsible for Rochefort's Escape.

The Moniteur holds England responsible for the escape of Rochefort and his companions, and declares that the British Government cannot refuse to enter upon an inquiry as to whether one of its subjects in assisting convicts to escape has not transgressed international law.

Violating the Press Laws.

The Government has resolved, in addition to the temporary suppression of Le Pays, to commence proceedings against its proprietors for violation of the press laws.

Great Excitement.

LONDON, June 13.—The Times has the following special dispatch, dated Paris, 12th, midnight. The boulevards are crowded to-night. All the cafes are full of people.

Destructive Conflagration.

An immense conflagration is visible in the northern part of the city. The freight station of the Northern Railway is in flames. All the firemen of the city are hurrying to the spot and thousands of policemen and soldiers are going in the same direction. The fire began at ten o'clock.

ITALY.

Movements of the American Pilgrims.

ROME, June 12.—The American pilgrims and leading members of the Society for the Promotion of Catholic Interests in the United States met to-day at the palace of the Cardinal Borrowe. The Cardinal made an address, praising the pilgrims for their zeal and courage, and distributed certificates of membership of the society. Prince Laucilion welcomed the new members, and Bishop Dwenger returned thanks. The pilgrims have presented to the Pope $100,000 in money, besides a coffer of gold nuggets from American mines. They leave Rome on the 20th inst.

Closing Exercises of the Abolitionists' Reunion

CHICAGO, ILLS., June 12.—The Abolitionists' reunion closed to-night, having occupied the day in miscellaneous speaking by every one who could get an opportunity, and the evening in listening to a concert by the Hampton "Ex-Slave" students. A resolution recommending the erection of a monument to Elijah P. Lovejoy, and urging that as he died in the defense of the liberty of the press this duty should be undertaken by the printers and journalists of the country, was unanimously adopted. A series of resolutions was also adopted expressing gratification at the results of the reunion, declaring it a Christian duty now that the negroes are free to overcome all prejudices against them, and calling on the country to cherish a spirit of liberty and justice. A memorial resolution in honor of Charles Sumner was drafted by a committee appointed for the purpose, and unanimously adopted.

WASHINGTON, June 12, 1874.

River and Harbor Appropriations.

The Senate Committee on Commerce, in reporting the river and harbor appropriation, recommend the insertion of the following items: $25,000 for the improvement of the Detroit river, and $25,000 for the Chattahoochie and Flint rivers, Georgia. The committee recommend striking out the entire second section of the bill, which directs surveys and examinations to be made at a large number of specified points throughout the country, and striking out the appropriation of $55,000 made by the House for this purpose. They also strike out the $50,000 for the improvement of the White river above Jacksonport, and $250,000 for the Osage river, Mo. The item of $50,000 for the falls of St. Anthony is made applicable also to the improvement of the Mississippi river above them.

5-20 Bonds Called in.

Secretary Bristow gives notice that the principal and accrued interest of the bonds herein below designated, known as 5-20 bonds, will be paid at the Treasury of the United States in the city of Washington on and after the fifth day of September, 1874, and that interest on said bonds will cease on that day. Coupon bonds, known as "third series," of the act of February 25th, 1862, dated May 1st, 1862, as follows:

Disturbances at Petersburg, Va.

Representatives Platt and Stowell to-day called upon the President and requested that troops be sent to Petersburg, Va., for the protection of certain officials, whose lives they alleged were in danger. On hearing this the remainder of the Virginia delegation, with the exception of Thomas, united in a request to the President that he would not order soldiers to Petersburg, as they believed that under the Marshal and District Attorney the laws of the country would be enforced, and if any one has committed an offence he will be punished, because ordering soldiers there at this time would injure the State and do no earthly good to any one. The President declined to interfere.

····Charles Fickley, a South Side puddler, is charged before Deputy Mayor Sallsbury with aggravated assault and battery by Mrs. Mary Davis.

····The alarm of fire from box 64 yesterday afternoon was occasioned by a chimney on fire in Spring alley between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets.

····Secretary McGonnigle of the Allegheny Poor Directors is talking of getting a stretcher to remove people who get hurt in Allegheny, to the hospitals.

····Ephraim Richardson was committed for trial yesterday, by Acting Mayor McMasters, on a charge of having stolen a gold watch and other articles of jewelry from Jennie Emerson.

····A good many bettors from other cities wish they had'nt come to Pittsburgh to see the sports of the past few days, for they return with very light purses, much of their cash remaining here.

····During the fire at Frank & Sons glass house on Thursday morning, John Devine thrashed a man named Dean pretty badly, and yesterday he appeared before Alderman Thomas and charged Devine with assault and battery.

····Mrs. Wagner, who keeps a boarding house at No. 35 Seventh avenue, reports that on Thursday night $450 in money and a silver watch and chain were stolen from beneath the pillow of one of her boarders while he was asleep.

····The Road sub-committee, to which was referred the claim of B. J. Bradley for $600 for extra grading in the building of the bridge over Nine Mile Run, on Second avenue, decided yesterday to report against allowing the claim, but in favor of the payment of the balance of the bill.

····The special committee appointed to adjust the difference between the Connellsville Railroad and the Second avenue Commissioners visited the disputed points yesterday, and at a subsequent meeting adopted an ordinance to cure the difficulty. Its provisions have already been published.

····Henry Davis, a colored man was arrested yesterday on a charge of the larceny of sixty dollars from George Mashey, who dropped the money on the floor of his dining room, and alleges that Davis picked it up, which is denied by the latter who says he threw it down again and swept it into a sewer.

····Yesterday the scaffolding upon which two painters were working in front of Steele's cracker bakery, corner of Lacock and Federal streets, Allegheny, broke, and they were precipitated to the sidewalk. Adams, one of the workmen, was very seriously hurt. He was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital.

····Last evening about five o'clock as a freight train on the Pittsburgh & Cleveland Railroad was running in on a siding in the Ninth ward, Allegheny, it ran into a misplaced switch and was thrown upon another track, where it struck a train that was standing there. One car was wrecked and another one was upset and somewhat damaged. No one was hurt.

····Among the physicians from this section of the State attending the National Association of Homœopathists, now in session at Niagara Falls, are the following: Pittsburgh—Dr. J. C. Burgher, Dr. J. H. McClelland, Dr. B. F. Drake, Dr. C. F. Bergman, Dr. W. F. Edmundson. Allegheny—Dr. L. H. Willard. Uniontown—Dr. A. P. Bowie, Dr. J. M. Parke. Corry—Dr. J. H. Gilchrist.

····The pupils of the High School, with a number of friends, who gathered at High School Hall yesterday afternoon expecting to hear a lecture by the Rev. F. A. Noble were disappointed, inasmuch as that gentleman failed to put in an appearance. Although no definite apology was given, it was generally understood that the ill health of the divine prevented a fulfillment of his engagement.

····In the District Court yesterday morning, A. M. Brown, Esq. brought suit for damages in behalf of the wife and children of Archibald McKinsey against the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad Company. Mr. McKinsey was killed the 20th of last October while crossing the track, and it is alleged that the train was running faster at the time than the law allows, and that the bell was not rung to warn him of his danger. The damages are set at $10,000.

····A man calling himself H. Johnson, opened an office at No. 16 Sixth street, about the first inst., and advertised for an active man with a little capital to assist him in his business. Andrew Hildebrand answered to the call and was induced to put $200 into a speculation that Johnson told him would pay. Ignatious Palousch also turned in sixty dollars towards the same object with the expectation that he would get back a big per centage on it. Both the men are now minus the money, because Johnson fobbed their cash and cleared out. Messner is after him with a warrant, but such men are not easily captured.

····The imbecile junior editor of the Uniontown Standard, who, in his own imagination, roosts high in the chief synagogue at that place, is a bungling but marvelously energetic falsifier. He never writes truth when untruth will answer, but is so sadly deficient in the art of concealing the latter, that the stamp of idiocy always unerringly indicates his miserable, paltry, journalistic handiwork. From the leanness of the editorial columns of the Standard the present week it is evident that this brilliant, corruscating specimen of poor-house nobility, has been left to evolve from the depths of his own india rubber intellect, a few almost forgotten but long since plagiarized political platitudes, with which to fill up a small portion of the space allotted to the venerable Jacob, who is doubtless off on a fishing tour in the mountains. By way of anticipation, it is merely necessary to state that, as usual, the above brief fraternal greeting will doubtless be replied to next week to the extent of about one solid column, possibly more, of Standard insipidity.

PERSONAL.

Bishop Kerfoot was never before so eloquent, never before did he so impress his audience, even to tears, as when on Thursday last in the Diocesan Convention, a few generous laymen having raised a thousand dollars to defray the expenses of the Bishop's contemplated journey across the seas, in search of lost health, that sum was voted by the Convention for the purpose indicated. The good Bishop rose to make acknowledgment, and suddenly became speechless and took his seat, after a vain effort to speak his thanks. The interest of the moment was heightened and the solicitude of all present happily and opportunely relieved, by Dr. Scarborough, Rector of Trinity, coming at once to the Bishop's aid and saying much about him to his praise, that he would not have said if speech had been vouchsafed. The Doctor's remarks found a most ready and gratifying response from the hearts of all present.

The Harrisburg Mercury in a very eulogistic reference to the Rev. Dr. C. A. Holmes, of Grace Church, that city, but formerly of Pittsburgh, mentions in the following terms, a sermon preached last Sabbath. "Rev. Dr. Holmes selected as his theme the appropriate text: 'Honor God with thy substance,' and after prefacing his remarks by alluding to the unfinished condition of the edifice, and indicating the importance and necessity of raising funds for the prosecution of the work thereon, he portrayed very faithfully and clearly the duty of the Christian of the present day towards the church, showing how the primitive Christians did their duty; how they gave of their substance, and with what cheerfulness they complied with all the demands made upon them in the interest of the church and humanity. His discourse was full of earnest thought and practical comparison; was, to an almost unlimited degree, powerful in its original suggestions, and was listened to with the most intent anxiety by all who were so fortunate as to be present. The speaker seemed to be specially inspired for the occasion, and appeared to sink self, and consecrate every earthly consideration to the promotion of the Master's work. It is to be hoped that this sermon will bear much fruit, and that it will result in the immediate revival of the financial fortunes of the church in order that the beautiful structure may be completed within a reasonable time."

THE Leader assumes that we admit the correctness of the Post's figures in regard to city taxes. Not so. The Post claimed an increase of about treble the old amount. We have always admitted the city taxes would be increased, but did not think to so large an amount as we hear.

THE New York Tribune attributes the re-nomination of General Negley to the State Ring. It was probably led into this error by observing the earnest way in which the Commercial endorsed it. Errett loves Negley—since Tuesday,—and is peculiarly happy over his nomination.

THE President is reported to have positively stated that he will not sign the Compromise Currency bill, preferring to have the question go over to the next session of Congress. The effect of this will be to throw that question into the political canvass. This will give animation to the discussions of the campaign, where there is interest taken in this issue.

AFFAIRS in France are rapidly approaching a crisis. The Left Centre is about to introduce a bill, declaring the Republic, and dissolving the Assembly. Civil war is threatened, and a period of great excitement is quite certain to follow. Yet singularly, amid the confusion, confidence in MacMahon seems to continue, despite an undercurrent of suspicion that he is playing in the hands of the Bonapartists.

DON CARLOS' fortunes cannot be at the brightest, when his followers revolt against him. A revolt in the Basque provinces, which have been most faithful to his cause, and have suffered as little as any the devastations of war, except so far as the support of considerable bodies of Don Carlos' troops is concerned, is quite significant. This is his best ground, the province where the people have been most faithful to his cause. For him to fail there, is to be endangered everywhere.

THAT civil service infant, which Butler was supposed to have sat upon, and which squealed and died, still shows faint signs of life. Mr. Kellogg, who has acted the part of the Good Samaritan toward it, took it in hand, and sought to have applied the $25,000 plaster Thursday, in the belief that it would recuperate and live. Butler, however, put himself in position to do a little more crushing, by moving that all moneys, not yet expended on that account, be covered into the Treasury. The poor thing is fated to die.

THERE are curious reports by way of London, to the effect that Germany, Servia and Roumania have concluded an arrangement for their mutual protection, as against Turkey; also that serious differences have broken out between the Khedive of Egypt and the Sultan. All this looks like a successful combination against the Sultan of Turkey. Roumania and Servia have heretofore been more or less under the patronage of Turkey, and their course in placing themselves under the patronage of Germany looks toward new combinations being formed that may bode danger to Turkey.

A WESTERN journal discusses the President's memorandum under the heading, "Shall we break our necks to save our lives?" The article ends with the following sentence: "The President's idea is to heighten the national credit by producing general bankruptcy. This may be financial wisdom, but we do not so regard it." The New York Bulletin, referring to the greenbacks and President Grant's proposition to withdraw, says: "At present the community have full confidence in them; our banking system is based upon them; their withdrawal will render the resumption of specie payments far more difficult, and they cannot be replaced by anything else without imposing heavy and unnecessary burdens on the people of the United States, and causing panic in the process."

AN ATTEMPT has been made, by one of the Turinian bishops of the Catholic Church, to secure a reconciliation between the Pope and Victor Emanuel. The desire for it is inspired by the fact that so long as the two are unreconciled, the pay of some of the Catholic bishops is quite small, coming as it does, out of Peter's pence. The following basis of settlement was obtained from the Pope: The Pope's civil list, amounting to 3,250,000 lire, to be paid by the Italian Government, without the signature of Cardinal Antonelli, as this would be regarded as a recognition of the statusquo; two, the royal exequatur to be abolished, and the right of the Holy See to appoint bishops to be admitted without restriction; three, absolute freedom of education—i. e., removal of the schools from State control; and four, withdrawal of the Government bill under which no marriage ceremony is to be performed by a priest unless the marriage has first taken place before a civil authority. The Italian Ministry would not, however, agree to the third proposition, and so the negotiations were broken off.

ON TUESDAY, the creditors of the Allegheny Valley Railroad will be called together to consider a statement of the affairs of the road, and to determine what arrangements shall be made. It is not yet possible to clearly announce what will be offered. The officers of the road have been, and are still busy in determining just what is the true state of affairs. This ascertained, and there is a basis of arrangement reached. If the debts are not extravagantly large, and the value of the road is all that is claimed, the officers seem confident some arrangement, satisfactory to the creditors, will be made. The Pennsylvania Railroad, which is a large creditor, will be represented, and thus will be heard from. It is not yet true, as reported, that the Pennsylvania Railroad has agreed to endorse the bonds of the Allegheny Valley road, nor is any definite proposition developed. President Scott contemplated going to Philadelphia last night to consult on the subject. The substance of what is reached, with great difficulty, is simply that every effort will be made that is possible to deal honorably and rightly with our local creditors. We advise them, however, to think out propositions to be made to the company if none acceptable are made to them.

THE REPORTS from South Carolina relative to Moses, the Governor, who has been dismissed from arrest, on the ground that what he did was in his official capacity as Governor, make that gentleman a subject of interest to us of the North. He is described as the man who pulled down the American flag on Fort Sumter, and his misdeeds, and abuse of power, not to say crimes, are startling and wonderful. One-third of those convicted of grave crimes in the State were promptly pardoned by him. Desperadoes were protected, and were salaried out of State moneys. The cause of his arrest grew out of the following circumstances: Desiring to control a paper he purchased a half interest for $12,000, half of which was to be paid out of the contingent fund, and half in State securities. He appointed a negro boy Treasurer of one of the counties, had him collect taxes, and drew on these for the $6,000. In the meantime he used up the contingent fund of $20,000, and when the negro boy reported his deficiency, and showed the Governor's warrant to account for it, he was arrested as a defaulter, and Moses was indicted as accessory to the crime. But he has been released, and it is now said he is certain to be re-elected Governor. No need of carpet-baggers there.

WE are happy to assure the Commercial that the very candidates we object to are those the State Ring did manage to get nominated. While it was defeated, precisely as we said, it is nevertheless true that it managed to secure a few of the legislative nominations. These are the ones we would take no stock in if we could see their places properly supplied. Apart from the State Ring's candidates the ticket is a good one,—so that "our work" as the Commercial is pleased to call it, is all right. And now, as the Commercial chooses to be personal, we will inquire of its editor about those "notices" that were served on 'Squire Steel, Treasurer Magee, and others, concerning the terrible things that were to follow in the event of Negley's nomination? The notices were served, Negley was nominated, and,—the Commercial, with Errett at its head, flunked. How about those "back-payster" paragraphs of the Commercial, in which it declared it never would support one again,—never! Yet after all was said, so solemnly and severely, it plumped down on its marrow bones with a terrible thud at the first opportunity. With these facts before it, we rather think it will do well to cease distorting what the GAZETTE says, and patch up its own soiled record.

A FEW DAYS MORE.

It may be a sad memory we call up, but it is nevertheless true, that there remain but a few more days of session, and Congress will adjourn. The capabilities for mischief there may be in those few days we do not attempt to mention. Congress is, as compared with our Harrisburg Legislature, as ten to one. The latter did things many and marvellous during its closing hours, and Congress may do other things, more numerous, and wonderfully marvellous, during its remaining days of existence. It has before it measures, some of which are exceedingly important; and there are schemes and jobs, which, if passed at all, must go through covertly, in the haste and confusion that always attend the closing hours of a session. That some of these will be thus passed we do not for a moment doubt. That good bills, that deserve to be enacted into laws, will fail of adoption, is also quite certain. Yet we hope that several that are of acknowledged importance will not be allowed to fail for want of proper attention.

The currency bill is quite sure to be disposed of—a conference report being tolerably sure of adoption. This will give the country a satisfactory financial bill, but one that will fail to receive the Presidential signature. The Geneva award bill should be disposed of. We strongly favor the bill in the shape it now is,—excluding the insurance companies from all participation in its benefits. The bills looking to new railroads, and favoring those partially built, must, of necessity, lie over.

Of those passed, that abolishing moieties and breaking up Sanborn and Jayne frauds, is very important. The regulation of Custom House salaries, fees and matters of this nature, will go far toward preventing abuses that have been excessive. There are other measures of importance acted upon, but owing to the revelations made in the Sanborn business, the moiety bill was regarded with unusual interest. We could wish the Civil Rights bill were formally acted on. If vetoed, the responsibility would rest with the President, and not with Congress. The session now so nearly over has been prolific in extended and heated debates, but not remarkable for the abundance of actual legislation. Yet quality is more important than quantity.

IN relation to the means regarding the future operations of the Erie road, its officers say that the plans adopted, in view of the success of the new loan, are to be fully carried out, and that all reports to the contrary have no foundation in fact. The work on the double track road-bed is proceeding with dispatch, and the change from the present broad gauge to narrow gauge will be made as soon as practicable. All the new locomotives have been built with a view to this change of grade, and the builders have contracted to do the extra work for $250 for each engine.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

The certainty that Congress will pass the conference report on the currency question, and the equal certainty that the President will not sign the bill, is the latest phase of the legislative situation on the subject. The President holds that the question must go to the people, and, under the circumstances, this will probably be the result. This is better, by far, than that the doctrines of the "memorandum" should be included in legislation.

The telegraphic synopsis of the bill specifies that the 5 per cent. redemption fund to be kept in the United States Treasury for the redemption of national bank notes may also be counted as part of the legal reserve of the banks against deposits. If this be correct it is a most important modification of the requirements for reserves. Practically it amounts to the entire abolition of the reserve against circulation. The total reserve required under the present law against circulation amounts to about $62,000,000, of which nearly one-half, or about $30,000,000, is required to be kept in legal tenders in the vaults of the banks, the other $32,000,000 being kept in the form of balances due from other banks. The conference committee's bill would therefore release the whole of this $30,000,000 of greenbacks, which would nearly offset the contraction that would be caused by requiring the banks to keep the whole of their reserves against deposits at home, instead of one-half in the form of credits due from other banks.

On the whole, therefore, the conference committee's bill would cause no contraction of the currency by requiring the banks to lock up any more legal tenders in their vaults than now. On the other hand, it would provide the way for an increase of currency by free banking, and would encourage the increase of banks by making the issue of currency a little more profitable to banks.

In local circles there are few changes to note. Money is plentiful, demands few, and, as a rule, easily accommodated. Comparatively little is being done in real estate, although there is a large volume of property being forced on the market.

Of the many reports concerning the Allegheny Valley Railroad, this may be accepted: Mr. Lyon is not expected to assume the Presidency, nor is Mr. Scott to retire. The meeting to be held Tuesday will be largely attended, and a clear exhibit of the affairs of the road will be made to the creditors, and the best possible arrangements made.

In Chicago there is less and less activity in finances, and general trade from week to week, and almost from day to day. There is so little doing in the way of enterprise that the demand for money steadily decreases, and one prominent bank was offering money to-day at 6 per cent. per annum for 60 or 90 days on satisfactory collaterals, or even on prime commercial paper. This is perhaps the lowest rate at which money has ever been offered in this market. But in all the principal markets, not only of this country, but of Europe, it is now offered on unquestionable security at unusually low rates. The rate of interest is an index of the degree of activity and profits of trade, and when the price of money is as low as it is now in all the principal markets, it may be safely assumed that trade is not active, and that profits are small.

The railroad reports for May have just been made. A list of thirteen companies shows an aggregate of gross earnings for May amounting to $5,023,098, against $5,022,741 for the same month of last year, being an increase of $357. The road on which the largest increase has occurred is the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, which shows a gain of nearly $160,000. On other roads there is generally a slight decrease, except on the Chicago & Northwestern. The following are the gross earnings of the respective roads compared with last year:

NEW YORK, June 12, 1874.

The Treasury disbursements were $142,000, and the customs receipts $279,000. The specie engagements for to-morrow's steamer are $650,000, of which $450,000 is coin, and the balance bars. Money was easy at 2@2½. In sterling there was a fair business at 487½@487¾ for sixty days and 490@490½ for sight. Gold opened at 110⅞, and closed at 111¼, the lowest and highest prices. The carrying rates were 1@2; loans flat. The clearings were $24,000,000. Governments were firm and in good demand. In State bonds there was nothing doing. Railroad bonds were steady, with a slight advance in Pacific. Stocks were firm to-day, with an advance of ⅛@⅜, but the volume of business was very small. Erie was weak for a time, and declined from 29⅞ to 29¼ in sympathy with lower quotations in London, but closed at 29⅝. At the final close the market was steady in tone. The sales for the day were 70,000 shares, of which 11,000 were Western Union, 17,000 Pacific Mail, 9,500 Erie, 13,000 Lake Shore, and 5,000 Union Pacific.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The general markets continue dull and present but little that is really new or important. The grain and flour trade continue quiet; the demand is restricted entirely to supplying immediate wants, while as regards prices there have been no changes since the date of our last report. The grocery trade has fallen off very perceptibly within the past week or two, as it usually does at this particular time; however, as there is every prospect of an abundant fruit crop, our merchants are expecting a heavy demand for Sugars. There is a continued steady demand for Provisions, and prices are fully sustained; while nearly all the leading staples have been steadily shrinking in value for some time past, the hog product has been an exception. The general produce trade is reported dull.

APPLES—There is very little inquiry for old stock, and the supply is almost exhausted.

BEANS—Selling in a jobbing way at $2.50@3.75 ⅌ bushel, the outside figure for choice navies.

BERRIES—Strawberries selling by the case at 10@15 cts per quart boxes.

BUTTER—Continues exceeding dull, so far as our commission merchants are concerned, and there is but little prospect of an early change for the better. We continue to quote nominally at 10@15 for fair to prime solid packed.

CHEESE—Continues to come in freely, and with stocks steadily accumulating, the market is weak and prices drooping: we continue to quote prime Ohio Factory at 14@14½, in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues quiet and nominally unchanged. Apples 10@12 cts for quartered, and 14@15 for sliced. Peaches, 10@12 for mixed; 14@15 for halves, and 18@20 for peeled.

FLOUR—Winter Wheat flours continue dull, and the offerings instead of falling off, appear to be increasing; prices, however, have undergone no quotable change in a jobbing way; Spring wheat flours are still holding their own. We continue to quote the former at $7.25@7.75, and the latter at $6.75@7.25. Rye Flour, $6.

GROCERIES—Trade continues dull, the demand for nearly all the leading staples has fallen off very materially within the past few days, although this is nothing unusual just preceding harvest. Sugars have taken the back track again: refined goods are reported ⅛ to ¼ lower in the East—as yet there has been no reduction made here. Rio Coffee is still reported firm, and the recent advance in the eastern markets is maintained. Molasses and Syrups quiet and unchanged.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 13¾; Crushed, Powdered and Granulated, 11¾c; Standard A, 10¾; B, 10½; Ex. C, 10¼; Circle C, 9¾; Franklin Extra C, 9¾; Franklin No. 2 Extra C, 9¾; American Extra C, 9; Yellow Sugars, 8 to 9c, as to quality.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 26; prime, 25; good, 24; fair, 23c. Roasted, 27c for 1 pound packages; loose, 2c less.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9¼, Patna, 8¾c; Rangoon, 8@8¼c.

SYRUPS—Extra White Drips, 70c; Sugar Drips, 60c; Amber, 60@65; lower grades, 50@55, as to quality.

GRAIN—There is nothing new to record in regard to the grain markets; the inquiry, as a rule, is still restricted to supplying immediate wants, while as regards prices there has been no quotable change since the date of our last report. Wheat continues dull with considerable offering and but little inquiry for it: we continue to quote at $1.35@1.40 for red winter and $1.45@1.50 for white. The Oat market is dull, with more offering than there is a demand for, yet prices are not quotably lower, ranging from 58@60, as to quality. Shelled Corn continues dull, but nominally unchanged, 70@73. Ear Corn is quotable at 75@78, and Rye at $1@1.05.

HAY—Loose sold in Allegheny, from country wagons, at $25@31 ⅌ ton, a slight advance, as compared with the fore part of the week. Baled is dull but unchanged at $18@24.

HOMINY—$4.75@5.25 ⅌ brl.

POULTRY—Live Chickens 75@80 cts ⅌ pair.

PROVISIONS—Hams—Extra Sugar Cured, canvassed, 14; Shoulders—Extra Sugar Cured, canvassed, 9¾; Breakfast Bacon—Sugar Cured canvassed, 12; Dried Beef—Extra Sugar Cured, canvassed, 17; Beef Tongues—Sugar Cured $7.00 ⅌ dozen; Bacon—Shoulders, 8¾ ⅌ lb; Rib Sides, 10¾; Short Rib Sides, 10¾; Clear Rib Sides, 11¾; Mess Pork, ⅌ brl, $19.50; Lard—Prime Leaf, in tierces, 12¾ ⅌ lb; Refined summer use in tierces, 12¾; half brls, 13; buckets 13¾. Ham Sausage, 10.

POTATOES—There was rather more inquiry to-day and a little better feeling in consequence, but no improvement in prices; we continue to quote, in job lots, at $1@1.25 ⅌ bushel, according to quality. Sale of 1 car mixed at 75.

RAGS—The market is reported quiet and unchanged at 3 cts ⅌ lb for good mixed.

SEEDS—Nothing doing in either Clover or Timothy Seeds. Flax Seed is wanted at $2.25.

TALLOW—Dull: 6¾@7.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

PIG IRON.

Trade in this important staple continues quiet as it always is at this particular time, and the market presents but little that is really new or important. The demand continues meagre, being confined almost wholly to supplying immediate wants, but the offerings have fallen off considerably, and while, perhaps, it would be difficult just now to place a round lot for immediate delivery at current rates, we have reason to believe that it would be just about as difficult to buy, as holders of good iron appear confident that prices have touched bottom, hence excepting those who, in consequence of financial necessities are forced to realize, they are refusing to make any further concessions, and as already intimated, there is not the same anxiety to sell that there was a month ago. It is claimed by some well informed and reliable operators that the supply, particularly of good standard brands, is and has been for some time past, overestimated, and one of the strong points advanced in support of this is that the production has been steadily falling off ever since the 1st of the year, and furthermore, while it is admitted that producers are carrying more stock than usual, it is alleged that consumers generally are almost bare. We have it from good authority that there would be no difficulty in placing considerable good forge irons for future delivery by conceding slightly from current rates, but there are no sellers, and we hear it also intimated that $25, cash, could be obtained for spot delivery. Quotations may be fairly given as follows: No 1 Foundry $28@30, 4 mos: No 2 $27@28: Gray Forge $26@27; white and mottled $25@26; hot blast charcoal $37@38; cold blast do $50@55. Blooms, as per quality, $80@90.

MANUFACTURED IRON.

The market for all kinds of finished irons continues moderately active: it is true, orders are still slacking off, as they always do at this particular time, but the mills still have enough to keep them working single turn, and in view of the fact that prices have run down so low that they afford little or no margin for profit, makers are not very anxious for orders—it is doubtful whether an order for a round lot could be placed at prevailing rates. The impression appears to be steadily gaining ground that prices have touched the lowest notch, hence there is a firmer feeling on the part of makers, and, as already intimated, they are not inclined to do much, except to supply the immediate wants of buyers. Some of the mills, we understand, have stopped their puddling furnaces, having sufficient muck bar to run them until next month, when it is probable the majority of them will stop for a few weeks to take stock and make repairs. Prices remain as last quoted, two and a half cents.

NAILS.

There is a continued steady demand for Nails, the best evidence of which is that all the factories are still in operation—some of them said to be working up to their full capacity, but as in the case of iron, it is claimed that there is little or no margin for profit at prevailing rates. We continue to quote at $3 55@3.60, 60 days, with the usual discount of two ⅌ cent for cash.

SCRAP IRON.

The market for all kinds of scrap continues very dull, and there is scarcely enough doing to establish quotations. Following are the nominal buying rates: No 1 wrought $30 ⅌ ton of 2,000 lbs; common do $25; No 1 cast $22; No 2 $15; Boiler Scrap $30; No wrought turnings $25; old car wheels $28 ⅌ ton of 2,240 lbs; cast turnings $13.

Michigan Wool Markets.

ST. JOHNS, June 6.—Munger & Dunn, the principal wool buyers here, report about 800 lbs thus far at 40c and under. Very little wool yet shorn, and less brought to market.

Ovid, June 6.—Potter, Beattie & Co., of Ovid are the principal buyers here. They have bought to date about 1,000 lbs; average price 40c. Not over one fourth of the crop is yet shorn. The reports are that the wool is in much better condition than usual, being very clean and showing more than ordinary care in handling.

Kalamazoo.—As yet but little wool has been brought to market. Some lots have been sold for 35 and 38 cents. Some combing wool sold for 45 cents. It is thought the market will be active. We hear of a lot of wool, 1,600 lbs, being sold in Schoolcraft, Saturday for 40 cents ⅌ lb. Some think the market will be very active by and by.

Port Huron, June 8.—Wool is coming in in rather moderate quantities, owing to the lateness of the season. There is quite a lively competition for it at from 38 to 45 cents.

Hastings.—The first wool of the season was offered on Saturday, June 6; price 42 cents ⅌ lb. This was the only load as yet offered.

Ann Arbor.—The wool market is as yet hardly opened at this point. We believe Bach & Able, Mack & Schmidt and Wood & Perrine are to be the only buyers here this season. The price now ranges from 35 to 40c.

Ionia.—The wool market has opened here with prices ranging from 38c to 42c. Only small lots have as yet been brought in. Page & Wilson have taken in about 1,500 lbs.

Corunna.—Wool has not yet started. On Saturday there was two small blanket lots of unwashed wool brought in, and was sold on a basis of 40c for first class wool.

Marshall.—The first wool purchased here this season was on the 5th inst. Price 40c ⅌ lb.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

Trade continues quiet and exceedingly unsatisfactory to operators generally, producers as well as refiners, but it is scarcely possible for it to remain in its depressed condition much longer. Crude was reported a shade firmer to-day without, however, any quotable improvement in prices; immediate shipment offered at 87½ ⅌ brl at Parker, with 85 bid; some of the brokers reported that at the outside figure no considerable amount could have been obtained—that if it had been offered, sellers would at once have advanced the price to 90. As we have before stated, refiners here would buy if they had any place to put it, but their tankage is all full, and it won't do for them to hire tankage. There is no doubt but what it is the want of empty tankage that is keeping the market down; all the tanks, both here and in the producing regions, are full to overflowing, and it is very evident from this that the production is considerably in excess of the consumption. Refined was, if anything, a shade better to-day: spot quoted at 9½ here, and 12¼@12⅜ delivered in Philadelphia. Sale 1,000 brls each, first and last half July at 6¾.

The Barrel market continues very dull, and there is not enough doing to establish quotations: countries, it is said, are offering at $1.50. Nothing doing in city make.

GEORGE H. ROWE,
Observer, Signal Service, U. S. A.

The weather yesterday was cool and invigorating; the thermometer did not rise above summer heat in the shade 75, and while the rains have been of incalculable value to the crops they have had but little influence on the stage of water as yet, the marks last evening indicating 3 feet 10 inches. Business continues dull, as it nearly always is at this particular time.

The Granite State departed for Portsmouth.

The R. W. Skillinger is due here to-day from Cincinnati. She will at once commence loading for a return trip.

The Exchange will be ready to commence loading for Cincinnati early next week. She has been thoroughly overhauled, and is in excellent condition for the low water campaign. She only draws, if we are not mistaken, about 16 inches light.

Capt David Campbell, of St. Louis, it appears by the records of the Custom House, has been interested in 147 steamers and three gunboats.

—Friday's Cincinnati "Commercial" says: The Dick Fulton will leave for Pittsburgh Friday morning with 10 barges.—E. H. Williamson, pilot of the Mary Davage, arrived from Ashland, where he has left his boat laid up on account of low water. She is bound from St. Louis to Pittsburgh.—Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock, William Joseph Morton was diving around the piers at Newport bridge, to find the locality of the sunken coal boats, he was drowned. It is supposed he hit some obstruction while diving. The body had not been found at dark.—The "Gazette" says: Since taking charge of the canal, Gen. Weitzel has made the following appointments: Capt. M. B. Adams, in special charge of the canal; Superintendent, Pall. J. Schott; Assistant Superintendent, Lam. F. Galmer; Collector of Tolls, M. W. Adams.

—The Memphis correspondent of the Cincinnati "Gazette" writes as follows: A few days since I mentioned the coal oil suits of the Hegler and Parker, and stated that they would be called in a few days, and on yesterday the case of the former was taken up in the United States Court, and the exceptions to the libel bills were overruled by Judge Trigg. The cases now will be tried on its merits, and, after its disposition, the Parker's case will be attended to, and I shouldn't be surprised to hear that both cases went against the boats, notwithstanding that, at the time they were libeled, there was no direct rail transportation for the conveyance of the oil in either case, and as the Hegler's was taken to Fort Smith, there was no possible chance to get here there by rail.

—Memphis paper of Tuesday says: The Paragon put off here nearly 100 tons of nails and iron as she passed here going down. She was fifteen days out, and had a rough time on every sand-bar in the Ohio, as she drew more water than was to be found in the channel. The Exporter went down at an early hour, having had no trouble on sand-bars as she came along.

—Capt. T. J. Russell, of the steamer Skillinger, was at Wheeling on Thursday. He is waiting there to join his boat.

—We understand that the H. S Turner has been seized by the United States Marshall, at the suit of Madison parties.

—The steamer Wild Duck has laid up at Coalport on account of low water. She has three barges of ore for Pittsburgh.

That there may be no failure on the part of the contractor, he will be required to keep the Beef Cattle in the vicinity of the Agency, to be delivered when required; and should it be ascertained that he is not collecting cattle in the vicinity fast enough, or should he fail to deliver them as required, the undersigned will purchase, or cause to be purchased, Beef Cattle as he may elect, at the expense of said contractor.

Parties bidding for Flour are required to furnish samples, each to be in quantity not less than one pound.

Parties to whom contracts for the supply of Flour are awarded shall, within 20 days, furnish to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs samples, in quality not less than 25 pounds, of the quality contracted for.

Each copy of each proposal must have a copy of this advertisement (a slip from a newspaper) pasted at its head.

The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals if such a course should be deemed for the interest of the government.

No bids will be considered from persons who have violated the terms or failed to comply with the requirements of a former contract, or who may have defaulted in any bid heretofore made.

All the samples of each bidder must be designated by a conspicuous private mark attached to each sample, corresponding with marks on the proposals, the name of the bidder in no case to appear upon the samples. Failure to comply with this rule will subject the samples to rejection. Special care should be taken to adopt such a private mark as will ensure distinction from other bidders.

It will very much facilitate the making of awards if bidders will mark the price on each sample presented, in addition to giving the price in the bid. No samples will be opened until after all the bids shall have been publicly read.

Each bid must give the names of all parties interested in, or parties to it, and no contract, or part thereof, will be permitted to be sub let or assigned to any other party without the written consent of the Secretary of the Interior.

Blanks for proposals with bonds attached, will be furnished on application to this office, or to the agents at the respective agencies at which supplies are to be delivered.

Every bid amounting to the sum of $5000 or over must be accompanied with a certified check or draft, payable to the order of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, upon some United States depository or solvent national bank, which check or draft shall not be less than five per centum on the amount of supplies proposed to be furnished; and in case any bidder, on being awarded a contract, shall fail to execute the same with good and sufficient sureties, according to the terms on which his bid was made and accepted, such bidder shall forfeit the amount so deposited to the United States, and the same shall forthwith be paid into the Treasury, but if such contract shall be duly executed as aforesaid, such draft or check so deposited shall be returned to the bidder.

Each bidder must designate his place of business, where communications sent to him will be received, the same to be entered in his contract should one be awarded him.

It is recommended to bidders residing out of New York to furnish a New York reference with their bids, and also their address while in that city.

At the execution of the contract a bond will be required to its full amount for the faithful performance thereof, with two or more sureties, whose sufficiency must be certified by a United States Judge or District Attorney.

Proposals should be enclosed in an envelope, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Proposals for Supplies for Indians."

Bidders are invited to be present at the opening of the bids.

The bids will be opened in the presence of the Board of Indian Commissioners and a Committee to be designated by the Secretary of the Interior, as soon as the time for receiving the same shall have expired, and the contracts will be awarded as soon thereafter as practicable.

EDW. P. SMITH,
Commissioner.

PROPOSALS FOR POST-OFFICE ENVELOPES.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29, 1874.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this Department until FRIDAY, the 26th day of June, 1874, at 12 o'clock M., for furnishing, in such quantities and at such times as may be required, the following described post-office envelopes during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1875, to wit:

FOR OFFICIAL LETTERS AND RETURNS.
No. 1—size, 3½ by 5½ inches. Estimated number required 7,000,000
No. 2—size, 3⅝ by 6⅝ inches. Estimated number required 750,000
No. 3—size, 4 by 9 inches. Estimated number required 200,000
No. 4—size, 4½ by 10½ inches. Estimated number required 2,000,000

FOR RETURNING DEAD LETTERS.
Size, 3¾ by 6¾ inches. Estimated number required, 2,000,000.

FOR REGISTERED PACKAGES.
Size, 5 by 10½ inches. Estimated number required, 6,000,000.

The estimates given are intended as a guide to bidders. The Department may require more or less of each kind, as the service may demand.

Bids must be made for each kind of envelope (official, dead-letter, and registered package,) separately, and the contract will be awarded for each kind to the lowest responsible bidder.

Samples of the different sizes and styles of envelopes required, together with blank forms for bids, will be furnished on application to the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

The envelopes must strictly conform in size, quality of paper, gumming, and make, to the samples, the gumming on the flaps or lappets to be done in the best manner, by hand. The envelopes must be banded in parcels of twenty-five, packed in strong pasteboard or straw boxes, securely bound with linen or cotton cloth on the corners and edges, each to contain not less than 250 of sizes Nos. 1 and 2, and not less than 100 of the other sizes, or otherwise, as may be ordered; the boxes to be wrapped in strong manilla paper and properly sealed, so as to bear safe transportation by mail to postmasters. When required to be delivered at the Department, the wrappings may be dispensed with, in the discretion of the Postmaster General.

When 2,000 or more envelopes are required to fill the order of a postmaster, or when large lots are ordered to be sent to the Post Office Department, they must be packed in strong wooden cases and properly addressed; but when less than 2,000 are required to be sent by mail, proper labels of direction must be placed on each package: all to be done by the contractor without additional charge.

The envelopes must be delivered in such quantities as may from time to time be required to fill the orders of postmasters or of the Department, and be delivered either at the post office in the city where the accepted bidder resides or at this Department, as the Postmaster General may direct, free of cost for packing, labeling, and delivering; the whole to be done under the inspection and supervision of an agent of the Department.

All the envelopes herein described must bear such printing as the Postmaster General may direct, and the registered package envelopes will be required to be printed in vermilion or some other approved brilliant color.

The Postmaster General reserves the right to reject any and all bids, if in his judgment the interests of the Government require it.

Each proposal must be signed by the individual or firm making it, and be accompanied by a guarantee, the responsibility and sufficiency of the signers to which must be certified to by the postmaster or United States attorney where the bidder resides, that the bidder shall, within ten days after being called upon to do so, execute a contract to furnish promptly, and in quantities as ordered, the article or articles awarded to him, to be accompanied by a bond with approved security, in a penalty of not less than twice the contract price of all the articles estimated to be furnished by said bidder, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the same.

Proposals unaccompanied by such guarantee will not be considered.

The Postmaster General reserves to himself the right to annul the contract if in his judgment there shall be a failure to perform faithfully any of its stipulations, or in case of a willful attempt to impose upon the Department envelopes inferior to samples. The failure to comply with any one order under the contract will operate as a forfeiture of the entire penalty of the bond under the 17th section of the act of Congress approved August 26, 1842, entitled "An act legalizing and making appropriations for such necessary objects as have been usually included in the general appropriation bills without authority of law, and to fix and provide for certain incidental expenses of the departments and offices of the Government, and for other purposes," (U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. 5, page 526;) or the Postmaster General may, in his discretion, direct the purchase in market of such quantities of envelopes as shall be necessary to supply the deficiency caused by such failure and charge to the contractor or contractors fifty per centum of the prices which it shall be found necessary to pay for such articles.

Bids should be securely enveloped and sealed, marked "Proposals for Post-Office Envelopes," and addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C.

JOHN A. J. CRESWELL,
Postmaster General.

HOME NEWS.

Persons leaving Pittsburgh for the Summer can have the DAILY GAZETTE mailed to their address anywhere in America or Europe, by leaving their orders in the Counting Room, corner of Sixth avenue and Smithfield street.

A Query.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

I want, through you, to ask the Directors of the Second ward, Allegheny, if they consider their Board legally organized, when one of the members is a Principal of a public school in another city. IRWIN AVENUE.

Bill Posters' War.

In the District Court, yesterday, James Thackery filed a bill against John Trimble, praying for a preliminary injunction. It seems that Thackery purchased the right to post bills on a certain wall on the corner of Federal and Robinson streets, Allegheny; and according to his statement, Trimble has been accustomed to tear said bills down or cover them over with his own. Thackery states that he has entered several suits against the respondent but without effect. He therefor, asks that the injunction be issued to restrain Trimble and his agents from tearing down or defacing his bills.

Baccalaureate Sermon by President Black, in Shady Side church, on Sabbath morning, 14th inst., at 10:30 o'clock.

Examination of Classes in College Chapel Monday and Tuesday, 15th and 16th inst., beginning at 8:45 A. M.

Musical Concert Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Commencement Exercises and Award of Diplomas, Wednesday afternoon, 17th inst., beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

Friends and patrons invited.

The Other Side.

Last evening we were called upon by Mr. M. F. Clouser, in relation to a statement which was made public, and which seems calculated to do him injustice. The statement was to the effect that a warrant had been issued for his arrest on a charge of setting fire to the stable in the rear of his hotel. This appears to be a mistake, as Mr. Clouser says—and brings corroborative proof of his statement—that he was not in the city at the time of the fire, and that no warrant was issued for his arrest on that charge. The first information given, was received through regular news channels, and from what we deemed reliable sources, but in order that all sides may have a full hearing, we take the first opportunity to give the other side of the story.

A Question of Rights.

Yesterday before Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, Mr. Samuel Lane entered suit against F. Kerner & McChesney, charging them with a nuisance in blasting within the city limits. A new street has been laid out in the Seventh ward, from Quarry to Henderson streets. This will pass directly through a valuable stone quarry, formerly owned by Mr. R. Henderson. The assessment for damages and the claims for benefits of all been adjusted, and Mr. Henderson, it is held, has been paid his share of damages consequent upon the new street. The latter gentleman, sold out this quarry to Mr. Forester, a contractor. The latter's workmen have been getting out stone for Mr. Forrester. Mr. Lane assumes that inasmuch as the new street belongs to the city now, that the quarry should also be the city's and inasmuch as the stone in the same is of considerable value, it should enable the municipal authorities to grade and pave the new street much cheaper than could be done were the quarry out of the question. He also holds that the city and not Mr. Forrestor owns the quarry, and makes information against laborers in the quarry. A hearing was had last evening, and the matter will go to Court for a decision.

The First New Wheat.

We were yesterday shown by Mr. McCreery of Hitchcock, McCreery & Co., a sample of new Tennessee wheat harvested June 1st. It is very fine wheat, not large, in the grain rather a dark color, but just such wheat as our millers here prefer to have. We find the following in Cairo papers referring to it:

THE FIRST NEW WHEAT FOR CAIRO.

There will be a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, at their rooms on Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, at which time there will be exhibited and offered for sale a sample of new wheat, shipped to the house of E. C. Pace & Co., by W. C. Cason, Esq., of Medon, Tenn., produced by Sam Haynes (colored), a planter of Madison county, Tenn., and harvested on the first day of June. Let there be a full turn out, and see if Cairo can't be ahead in the price she pays for the first new wheat.

That's just the figure for which the wheat referred to in Saturday's Sun, which was raised and harvested by Sam Haynes, a colored planter of Madison county, Tennessee, sold for per bushel on 'Change this morning. Messrs. E. C. Pace & Co, to whom it was consigned by W. C. Cason of Medon, Tennessee, offered it for sale, and Capt. D. T. Parker did the selling. The bidding was lively, and it was finally sold to Peter Cuhl, Esq., one of our popular business men, for the sum of $4 25 per bushel. This is a feather in the cap of Cairo and Mr. Cuhl, and we congratulate him on his good fortune.

Board of Health.

The Board of Health met yesterday afternoon in Municipal Hall. The following report of Health Officer Gray for May was read and received:

No. of nuisances abated	551
No. of permits issued	218
Received from permits	$109 00
Received from fines	65 00
Total	$174 00
Expended	14 90
Balance	$159 10

Number of suits instituted, 9. Number of deaths in May 238, being 42 less than for the corresponding month of the previous year. The largest number of deaths from any one disease, thirty-two, resulted from consumption. Scarlet fever is next on the list it having carried off twenty-five.

An anonymous communication purporting to be from citizens residing on Twenty-eighth street, South Side, asking the Board to recommend to the Street Committee that it be graded and curbed, as it is said to be in a very bad condition, was read but not accepted because it contained no signatures.

A permanent Committee on Hospital Grounds was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Edwards, Arthurs, Fleming and Health Officer Gray. A committee was also appointed to procure a seal for the Board and then it adjourned.

THE STUDENTS' REUNION.

Renewing Memories of College Days.

A meeting was held this afternoon in the First National Bank building for the purpose of organizing an association of former students from this vicinity, of the University of Lewisburg, in Union county.

The organization was effected by the adoption of an appropriate constitution and the election of the following officers:

President—H. F. Grier, Esq.
First Vice President—Rev. A. J. Bonsall.
Secretary—Rev. J. S. Huston.
Treasurer—Rev. George J. Brensinger.
Executive Committee—A. J. Bonsall, J. S. Huston and Frank M. Higgins.

The following persons were elected members of the club: Prof. Wm. T. Grier, of Monongahela College, Jefferson, Greene county; Prof. Jonathan Jones, Mt. Pleasant Academy; Rev. Leroy Stephens, Mt. Pleasant; Geo. Whitman, Oil City; Wm. F. Cowden, New Castle; U. Shadrack, Saltsburg; Messrs. W. S. Sheilsnberger, Rochester; S. J. Hays, Pittsburgh; Albert Rice, Youngstown, O., and John Owens, Pittsburgh.

After the transaction of business of minor importance the Association adjourned, the time and place of the next meeting to be designated by the Executive Committee.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY

A Lively Chase in Allegheny—A Thief Grabs a Lot of Watches from a Jewelry Store on Ohio Street—He is Finally Captured.

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, one of the boldest robberies that was ever perpetrated in the two cities in open daylight, was committed in Allegheny. Mr. John Marks, of the firm of John Marks & Co., No. 190 Ohio street, jewelers, was alone in his store at the time above mentioned, and engaged in the rear end doing some repairs to a watch, when he heard a noise in the front part of the store, and on turning around was astonished to see a man's leg going over the railing, between the show case and the door, and rapidly making an exit on to the street. A hasty examination showed that with the man's disappearance followed a number of gold watches, and Mr. Marks having called his wife and left her in charge of the store, started after the thief. Now ensued a lively chase. The thief ran down Ohio street to Madison avenue followed closely by Mr. Marks and a crowd shouting "stop thief" at the top of their voices. The run was down the avenue to Liberty street, and along that thoroughfare to the Painter property. Here the robber scampered through the yard with Mr. Marks and the crowd close to his heels. From here the chase proceeded down South Canal street to Chestnut, and down to Saw Mill run alley, through several intermediate private alleys, in one of which, in a coal hole, the thief deposited four gold watches, but still making the run for freedom from capture. After getting rid of this portion of his booty, the thief made for a stable, climbed up to the roof, got on to it, and from it jumped on to the roof of the house adjoining, and from there scampered over several houses and then suddenly disappeared. During the excitement, Officers Quirk and Mackintire had followed in the chase, and they searched several houses pretty closely, and finally found a gentleman concealed in a box in Mrs. Webster's boarding house attic, concealed with a lot of bed clothes, the lid down, and on top had been placed another box, weighing about one hundred and fifty pounds. The party, though perspiring freely, was coolly taken to the lock up by the officers, where he gave his name as James Morris, from Dubuque, Iowa, and he wanted to know why he was arrested. Before leaving his store Mr. Marx found he had lost eight gold watches, valued at about a thousand dollars, four of which were found where the thief had thrown them. Morris is a young man of prepossessing appearance, and is about twenty-four years of age. An information will be lodged against him to-day by Mr. Marx.

THE KILLING OF EDGAR.

The Testimony Adduced at the Inquest—Verdict of the Coroner's Jury—Potts Held for the Murder.

Coroner McCallin yesterday held an inquest on the body of George R. Edgar, who died from the effects of the wounds inflicted by Thos. Potts, a sub-police officer, at the house of ill-fame, No. 2 Watson street, on Sunday morning last. The witnesses were examined by themselves separately. The first witness examined was Nellie Moran, the sick woman, whom Potts went to see. She made a contradictory statement of the affair. She said that she fainted after Edgar had pointed a pistol at her head to keep her quiet; that she saw Edgar shoot at Potts twice, and that Edgar shot himself. As to the manner and commencement of the trouble, she elicited no new facts, and gave a disconnected account of the affair.

Dr. J. D. Thomas, who made the post mortem examination, testified that the ball entered cartilage of the seventh rib, on the left side; passed directly backward through the large end of the stomach and through the spleen, and lodged in the back on the left side of the spinal column. A large amount of hemorrhage was found in the abdominal cavity. Cause of death, peritonities. The ball in the face gave him no trouble at all, and if he had received no other wound he would have been out the next day; there was no powder on the face, which would probably have shown if he had shot himself, and the ball would have taken an upward direction; the ball took a backward direction; however, there was an abrasion on his left hand; it might have been produced in a hundred different ways; he was about five feet, six and one half inches in height.

Lizzie Gibson testified to five men coming into the house, and that four of them pitched on to Potts and the other one stood with a revolver held at us, and said if we moved he would blow our brains out; have but two rooms up stairs; I have no husband living; they came in without asking permission to do so; I was there during the shooting, but I could not tell who shot at Potts; I don't remember how many shots were fired, but I think two; I saw but one pistol and that was in Potts' hands; of course I saw a pistol in the hands of the man who had it to us; I saw a pistol in Potts' hands after the shooting occurred; after detailing the arrest, the woman said I was in the room when the shooting occurred; they were all fighting with Potts at the time, except the one who was guarding us; the one who was guarding us had a revolver and stood there until after the first shot was fired; I think he then ran into the crowd; three of them were on Potts at one time and had him down on the floor; they all ran out together and Potts remained; only knew that some one was shot by the blood spots on the floor.

Nellie Clayton testified that Edgar stood over them with a pistol, while the fight was going on and that Potts had no pistol. Jennie Fitzgerald, who did not see the fuss was examined, but her evidence was immaterial.

Andrew McGaw, one of the party who was in the fuss, testified that he saw Potts pick up a revolver and cock it; ran out through the hall then and heard three shots fired; didn't see him fire; the revolver was silver mounted; I couldn't say whether it was a small or a large one; I had been in the house about twenty minutes when this trouble occurred; I had been with Edgar a few hours before; Donovan and myself went there first; I suppose they knew we were going there; I didn't have a revolver; I think Edgar had one; it was a large one and silver mounted; can't say whether it was the same one I saw Potts pick up or not. I don't do any work, and live on High street, have seen Donovan carry a revolver; don't know as he had one that morning.

David Goggins, another of the same party testified that he didn't see the fuss, but he heard the shots and knew Edgar carried a pistol.

BARNEY KEARNS' STATEMENT.

Barney Kearns was the next witness. I was at the house on Watson street at the time this trouble occurred; Edgar and I went up together; Edgar went up stairs and a woman came down and knocked at a door, and she was let in; Edgar came down and pushed the door open and went in; after the scuffle commenced I went in and tried to get him out, but couldn't; there were two others with us, but I don't know their names; there were four altogether; I only got in with the party the night before; Donovan was there with some one, Andy somebody, when we got there; somebody started a scuffle, but George Edgar was not in the scuffle; the man inside went for his pocket as though he was going to get a knife or pistol; there was only one man in the room when we got there; there was a man came from a back room who had whiskers; I was outside when I heard the first shot fired; I then went back and George Edgar fell down in the door and said, "I have got it;" Edgar had a large revolver when he went there; Edgar was in there alone with Potts when the shots were fired; I saw three women there; didn't see anybody holding a revolver to the women; I was not in the room at all; the man who was first scuffling with Potts, was a slim built fellow, and wore a cap; I didn't see Edgar fire a revolver; the man in the room was in his shirt sleeves and was fixing up his suspenders when he came to the door; I didn't have any revolver myself; there was another revolver in the party; but I don't know who had it; there were three shots fired in all that I heard; I was outside in the street when the shooting occurred, and the hall door was shut so that I could not see into the house; one of the men in this party they called "Joe;" I don't know what his other name was; don't know what his business was; I met him on Monday evening after the shooting, and he said we had better get out of the city if we didn't want to be arrested; I told him I was up stairs all the time and didn't see the shooting; I live on Liberty street and am a moulder.

WHAT DONAVAN KNOWS.

James Donavan was the next witness. I was at the house on Watson street this Sunday morning; I was asked to go there by Mr. McGraw; the door was open and we walked up stairs; the first room we went into there was a woman lying on the lounge; in the other room there was a woman in the bed, and I was sitting on the bed talking with her when a woman came up stairs and said that there was a fuss down stairs; she didn't order me out of the room, but was very pleasant, another woman came up and said a man had a revolver in his hand; I came down stairs and saw Potts standing on the floor and Edgar there; Potts said they had kicked in the door, and spoke about arresting them; Edgar then came up and Potts went to take a revolver out of his pocket when I grabbed him and a man named Harrison took the pistol away from him; afterwards Potts picked up the pistol from the floor and shot Edgar; I jumped into the hall and there I heard another shot; Edgar then came out and said he was shot; three shots were fired that I heard; I saw Edgar have a revolver before; I met Edgar on the Sunday before, and was introduced to him at the primary meetings; I knew him before, in 1861; I never saw Potts before, that I know of; I didn't see Edgar have a revolver before; I was the only person that had a scuffle with Potts; after Harrison took the revolver away from him I supposed the affair had ended; we all had plenty of drink in us at the time; I never saw Edgar fire a shot; I don't think he could have done so without my knowing it; I was with Edgar on a gun boat during the war; I had no previous arrangement with the other party to meet them there; there was another revolver with the party; I do not know whose it was; I saw it pulled in the room.

This concluded the testimony, when the jury, after a short deliberation, rendered the following verdict: That the said George R. Edgar came to his death on the morning of June 11, 1874, from a pistol shot fired by the hand of Thomas P. Potts, at house No. 2 Watson street, Sixth ward, Pittsburgh, on the morning of June 7, 1874.

Pittsburgh Block Works.

His manufactures have always had the ring of the genuine metal, and have made his name, among the class which he supplies, as familiar as a household word and a synonym for honor, honesty and reliability. The Strap Iron Block, which he manufactures and of which he is the inventor, is pronounced by competent judges to be the ne plus ultra block for durability and effectiveness and were its merits fully known it must supercede the use of many other styles.

FRIENDSHIP PARK RACES.

Close of the Summer Meeting—An Interesting Day and Interesting Sport—Slow-Go the Winner of the 2:30 Race—The Pacing Match Decided After Two Heats.

Yesterday, though it was the last, proved by far the most interesting day of the races. The crowd was very large, and the contests were of such a nature as to cause real interest in them. The day was cloudy and windy, and the air in the Park bracing, though, perhaps, a little too cold for real comfort. The breeze, too, swept the dust in clouds, so that at times the race track for some distance was hidden from view. There were two races, one for a purse of four hundred dollars to horses that never beat 2:30, Eva, Stewart Maloney and Slow-go being entered for it. The other was a pacing match for two hundred dollars, with Sorrel Jim and Silver Cloud as the contestants. Pool selling was very lively, and the South Siders bet freely on Kestner's Slow-go, for the trot, and he was the favorite, and won the race. Had he lost, there is no doubt but that Coroner McCallin would have been under the necessity of appointing several deputies for a few days, as suicides might have proved numerous. The pacing race caused very little excitement, but proved an entire surprise.

THE TROT.

In the choice for position Stewart Maloney won the pole, Slow go next, and Eva outside. Maloney got the lead after leaving the wire, but he broke after going a few yards. This caused him to fall back slightly, but he kept up his speed and the lead, and in the same manner made the quarter. Maloney led clear to the half mile, with Slow-go and Eva close up. Eva was giving Slow-go a handsome contest for the second place, when Slow-go broke and the mare passed him and in this way the horses made the three quarter stretch. Maloney still leading. At the home stretch Eva and Maloney were making the heat exciting, they keeping very closely together and it was hard to tell which would prove victorious. The mare, however, overstepped the horse and made the wire first, Maloney next, and Slow go close on and last. Maloney made the half mile in 1:18; time for the heat, 2:37¾.

SECOND HEAT.

The second heat was of much interest. Slow-go was still the favorite, and betting was free on him twenty-five to ten against the others. The start was made very even, and the three horses kept almost abreast to the quarter pole, making a very nice spurt. After leaving the quarter, Slow-go made the lead, with Maloney fighting to regain lost ground. Eva was also close to both of them and the horses were closely following each other. The three passed the half mile wire amid wild cheers from the excited crowd. The position of the horses was not changed and they came home in the same order, amid the shouts of the multitude. Time—half mile, 1:17½; mile, 2:35.

THIRD HEAT.

Slow-go was now selling fifty to ten and when he started on his third heat excitement ran high. The start was made with Slow-go in the lead. Maloney caught well up and Eva not far back. In this way they passed the quarter pole, but Eva was not satisfied to hold the last place, so she soon passed Maloney and in this way they came home, Slow-go in the lead, Eva second and the Maloney last. Time—half mile 1:16¼; mile 2:32½.

FOURTH HEAT.

The backers of Slow-go were now sure of their favorite and they put more money upon him, going as high as one hundred and thirty-five to twenty-five, that he would win the next heat and race. The horses started finely, Maloney taking the first place, Eva following, and Slow-go last. In this manner the horses passed the first quarter, but Slow-go made for the front, and he made it shortly after passing the half mile wire, Maloney next and the mare last. Before reaching the three-quarter stretch, Maloney was whipped up, and caught up well to Slow-go, but the latter wouldn't be beat, and the horses came in with Slow-go but very little in advance of Maloney and the mare last. This was the slowest heat of the race. Time—half mile 1:20; mile 2:39.

SUMMARY.

The following is a summary of the race: Friendship Park, June 12, 1874—Trot for a purse of $400, open to horses that never beat 2:30; best three in five, to harness.

E. A. Lytle, Pittsburgh, enters r. g. Slow go, 3, 1, 1, 1.
M. Goodin, Philadelphia, enters b. g. Stewart Maloney, 2, 2, 3, 2
J. E. Turner, Philadelphia, enters b. m. Eva, 1, 3, 2, 3.
Time: 2:37¾; 2:35; 2:33¼; 2:39.

THE PACING RACE

fooled many, and but little very hard betting was done on either horse, they being both considered "mity unsartin." Silver Cloud had the pole in the first heat, and the send-off was made with the Cloud keeping the lead. Sorrel Jim broke badly after leaving the wire and the Cloud did likewise. Jim was brought to a dead stop several times in the race, and Cloud made the heat in an easy manner in 2:37½; half mile 1:29.

Silver Cloud was slightly the favorite now, and he was expected to win the race, but he concluded otherwise. The start was made for the second heat with Cloud leading and at the quarter had left Jim way behind. But Cloud broke badly, and the other horse commenced to close the gap. Cloud's driver pulled him up and Jim took the advantage of it, and crawled up and took the lead, finally leaving the grey fully twenty lengths behind. Before he reached home, Jim managed to distance Silver Cloud, and so Jim was declared the victor. Time—half mile 1:16; mile 2:33.

The following is the summary:

FRIENDSHIP PARK, June 12, 1874.—Pacing race for a purse of $200.
E. Deckenbach, Pittsburgh, enters s. g. Sorrel Jim .... 2, 1.
J. Eichleay, Pittsburgh, enters g. g. Silver Cloud .... 1, d.
Time—2:37¾; 2:33.

This concluded the race and the Summer meeting of the Friendship Park Driving Association, which has proved successful in every way, and the managers are to be congratulated, especially in the fact that everything was conducted satisfactorily to the public and with fairness and impartiality.

INSTALLATION OF A MINISTER.

Ceremonies at the Bellefield Presbyterian Church—Induction of Rev. W. J. Holland into Office.

Last evening Rev. W. J. Holland, the new pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian church was formally installed. The ceremonies attracted considerable of an audience, and although the church was not crowded it was comfortably filled, the closest attention being paid to the addresses that were made. The exercises were opened by the singing of a hymn by the choir, after which Rev. C. V. McKaig read the fourth chapter of Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians.

The sermon of the evening was preached by Rev. Dr. Howard, of the Second U. P. church. He took for his text the seventh verse of the second chapter of the prophecies of Ezekiel: "Thou shalt speak my words unto them whether they will bear or whether they will forbear."

The word of God, he said, should be preached at all times and under all circumstances and conditions, but at the same time in a loving and tender manner. He said it should be given pure and unadulterated, as it came from God, and he would prove faithless to the church and to society who walked not in the footsteps of the prophets and the apostles. The salvation of the soul is the greatest of all things. It is infinite and deathless. Men of the world did not believe it. They believe that to secure riches is the greatest of all things. Other men still believe that honor and place are the most desirable. The speaker hoped they would discover their mistake before they were ushered into eternity. How is an endless death to be averted? Through the word of God. Let it be spoken to the sorrowful and suffering, and a new joy will mantle their faces and a new life course through their veins. Let it be spoken to the perplexed statesmen and patriots, who tremble for the safety of the ship of state, and they will be given a new knowledge that will enable them to avert all danger. Go and preach it to the tribes of heathen who bow down before stocks and stones, and throw their children into the rivers as offerings to their idols, and they will worship and erect temples to the triune God. The conclusion of Dr. Howard's sermon urged the vast importance of hearing and heeding the word of God, as laid down in his holy Book, and as expressed by the ministers, as being the only true way to the attainment of an eternal life. The very impressive sermon of the Reverend speaker elicited the deepest attention from the congregation. It was not a long one, but it contained a world of noble thoughts, spoken in such a dignified and yet affectionate way, that an impression was created which will not soon be eradicated.

Rev. Dr. McKinney, previous to propounding the formal constitutional questions, stated that a certificate of the good standing of Rev. W. J. Holland had been received from the Presbytery of New Brunswick and deposited with the Pittsburgh Presbytery; that Rev. Holland had preached a number of times before the Bellefield congregation, and been honored with a call which he had accepted, and that the meeting was in accordance with the time set for his installation. The questions to the pastor and congregation were then put and all properly answered.

The charge to the pastor was next delivered by Dr. Howard, who spoke briefly, stating that he had not much to add to what he had already said. He particularly commended to the care of the new pastor the children of the congregation, saying that too deep an interest could not be taken in their temporal and moral welfare and prosperity.

Rev. Mr. Fisher followed and made the charge to the congregation. His remarks occupied some time and he urged upon the people the necessity of treating their pastor as a man in whom they could repose confidence, to whom they could make known their sorrows, sure of a full share of sympathy. It was their duty be said to invite him to their houses and to let him know when any are sick or in trouble, that he might go to them and offer such comfort as he could. No minister, the speaker said, could be successful without the hearty co-operation of his people, and he trusted that Rev. Holland would receive all the support and help he needed, and that the union between pastor and people would last for many years, provided such was the will of God.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Holland, and the congregation was dismissed, many of the members coming forward at the suggestion of one of the ministers present to extend to Rev. Holland the right hand of fellowship.

The Bellefield church is admirably located in the center of a beautiful region, the entire country on every side of it being dotted with elegant suburban residences, that indicate the presence of wealth and luxury. Fifth avenue extension runs directly in front of the church, and as soon as the improvements being made on that thoroughfare are completed it will be a delightful pleasure drive. The church edifice is a very handsome but modest structure, there being nothing either gaudy or imposing in the style of its architecture, but it is just such a neat, cosy place as always makes one feel at home. The gentlemen who compose the church session are Messrs. George Wilson, Wm. P. Wooldridge and John T. Wightman.

AMONG THE MISSING.

The Mysterious Disappearance of an old Gentleman.

The Chicago papers of May 23rd, give an extended account of how the three card monte game was played upon an old gentleman named Robert Johnson, who was returning from a Western trip to his home in Philadelphia. The story in brief was that the victim was enticed into a saloon by a friendly stranger, who claimed his acquaintance, and that while there he was lured on to invest $100 in the little Game. Fortune of course turned against him, and when he remonstrated he was threatened with violence and finally was arrested by a sham policeman who however let him off. When on the start away from the station, the old gentleman made known his troubles at Police headquarters and the gamblers were arrested and held for a hearing.

That was the last report that was heard from Mr. Johnson, and his friends, as will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere, are very much concerned for his safety. He is about sixty-five years of age, and being unused to the excitements of city life, it is feared that he has fallen a victim to other sharpers. No news had been received from him up till yesterday, and efforts are now being made to ferret out the mystery. Any information concerning him will be thankfully received and suitably rewarded, if sent to the address given elsewhere.

A WONDER TO HERSELF.

TANKTOWN, Delaware Co., O., March 20, 1873.
To Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Your Discovery needs only a fair trial and it will do all you recommend it to do and more too. When I was fifteen I caught cold and for 28 years I have been a perfect wreck of disease, and all the medicines and doctor's bills have run up at times to two and three hundred dollars, and never any better but worse, when I give up all hope last spring of living the summer through. I received one of your Account Books and told my husband after reading it that it was too late to try any further, but he said it was never too late. He went and bought two bottles and I found it was helping me very much. Since 1841 I was troubled with Catarrh and Sore Throat, and was almost entirely deaf in one ear and my voice was as dull as could be. There was constant pain in my head. Now my head is as sound as a dollar, my voice is clear, and I have used ten bottles of your Discovery. It has cured me of Catarrh, Sore Throat, Heart Disease, Spine Affection and Torpid Liver. My Liver was very bad. My skin was rough. When I put my hand on my body it was like fish scales. Now it is as smooth and soft as a child's. In conclusion I will say I have been well for three months. I am a wonder to myself and friends. This is but an imperfect statement; half has not been told.

Yours, with respect, HESTER LACKEY.

THE PUMPING HOUSE.

Progress of the Work on the Engines and Boilers—Amounts Paid and Balance Due Contractors—Foundations and Quarry.

The following report of the progress of the work on the foundations and machinery for the pumping house of the new Water Works, at Negley's Run, we take from the monthly report of Mr. Joseph L Lowry, Mechanical and Hydraulic Engineer, submitted at the meeting of the Water Committee on Thursday night:

It affords me pleasure to state that the work on the machinery is progressing rapidly. During the month of May, 3,620 pounds of forging and 120,000 pounds of castings were completed for the first pair of engines, upon which there is due the contractor $13,520,40 less 20 per cent. There was completed during May 4,542 pounds of forgings, and 123,883 pounds of castings for the second pair of engines, upon which there is due the contractor $13,978 less 20 per cent. The work on the boilers is progressing as rapidly as could be expected. Material and labor has been furnished to the value of $10,630,05 less 20 per cent.

Amount due Mr. Hartupee for May	$27,498 40
Amount due N. Snyder & Co. for May	10,630 05
Total	$38,128 45

On the first pair of engines, the total weight of material made to date is 2,045,186 pounds. On the second pair of engines, the total weight of material made to date is 1,437,669 pounds.

Amount paid Mr. Hartupee on first pair of engines	$223,884 58
Amount paid Mr. Hartupee on second pair of engines	182,888 98

The progress made at the foundations of the new engine house since my last report is very gratifying. During the past month two thousand perches of cut stone and eight hundred and forty-two perches of rubble were laid. There is now upon the ground twelve hundred perches of cut stone and three hundred perches of rubble. The rubble and block stone at Karns station is estimated at one thousand perches. The cost of quarrying, exclusive of the amount expended upon tools, railway siding and boarding houses, is $4.50 per perch for scabbled block stone, and $2.50 per perch for rubble.

Should the work progress as rapidly in the future as during the past month in all probability the foundations will be completed in the latter part of August. The character of the work completed is such as to afford matter for congratulation. There are now employed at the foundations 128 laborers, 2 blacksmiths, 2 engineers, 1 carpenter and 98 masons and stone cutters—231.

At Coll's quarry there are employed 100 laborers, 2 blacksmiths, 82 quarrymen and one carpenter—185. Total 416

THE HALL FARM.

An Eye Witness of the Sale—What he Noticed.

The last sale of lots at the John S. Hall farm attracted a large number of our most respectable citizens. This farm is located in the Tenth ward, Allegheny, on West End avenue, adjoining the property of Hugh S. Fleming, Esq., Harvey Bollman, Esq., and others, and is accessible by two lines of street railways. Located as it is no prettier property is in the city. The last sale of lots was a most interesting one, among the purchasers being Mr. H. M. Long, Mr. J. Levy, Mr. McKinnell, and others of our well-known citizens. The prices at which the lots were knocked down were very low considering the beauty of the property and the eligibility of its location. Some of the lots that last year could not be bought for $600 were sold at the last sale as low as $185. Such an opportunity to secure first-class real estate at low prices and on long time has seldom been offered.

The next sale will take place to-day June 13th, when the balance of the lots will be sold without reserve. The lots must be sold to-morrow, let them bring what they may. Mr. A. J. Pentecost, the well known auctioneer, will take the stand at ten o'clock in the morning, on the ground, next Saturday, and proceed to sell the lots to the highest bidders. It is within the power of every man to own his own house and lot, and now is the opportunity. Go to the sale to-morrow, take either the Western avenue cars or the Pleasant Valley line and at the western terminus of each, omnibusses will be found in waiting to convey you to the farm. There will be refreshments on the ground and music by the Callow band. Everything possible has been done to make those who attend the sale enjoy themselves, and we doubt not that a large attendance will be at the Saturday sale. Do not miss this golden opportunity of securing a first class lot at a most reasonable price and on long time.

PLAIN ENGLISH.

There is no good reason why an English speaking people should be doctored in Latin. If we should describe the properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in the jargon of the profession, but one reader in twenty would understand what it is good for. We prefer to say in simple words that it possesses strengthening, regulating and purifying qualities of the highest order; that the vegetable ingredients of which it is composed are eminently wholesome and salutary, and that the stimulant which is combined with them is the purest that can be manufactured. We prescribe it, not in garbled Latin, but in the good old mother tongue as a remedy for langour, debility, nervousness, indigestion, liver complaint, fever and ague, constipation rheumatism, and low spirits, and as a preventive of every disease produced by foul air, whether it stagnates in crowded work-rooms or imperils life and health in swampy districts and new clearings. So the masses say, and so they have been saying for the last twenty years.
